CIS 289 : Wireless Networking

The purpose of this course is to allow students to explore current issues related to wireless technology. Students will be able to develop and maintain wireless networks using advancements in current technology.

Program

Computer Science Technology

Hours 3

Prerequisites

Permission of Instructor