

EGR 100 : Engineering Orientation

This course is designed to make beginning engineering students aware of the many facets of engineering, of their relation to society, and of the objectives of the engineering curriculum. It is designed to stimulate interest in engineering and student-instructor dialogue.

Program

Engineering

Hours 1

Theory Hours 1