

ACR 128: Heat Load Calculations

This course focuses on heat flow into and out of building structures. Emphasis is placed on determining heat gain/heat loss of a given structure. Upon completion, students should be able to calculate heat load and determine HVAC equipment size requirements.

Credits: 3

Theory Hours: 3

Program: Air Conditioning and Refrigeration