

CAR 226: Metal Framing

This course introduces the students to metal framing of floors, walls, ceilings, and roofs. Emphasis is placed on metal frame construction. Upon completion, students are expected to be able to describe components and proper application of metal framing, properly construct floors, walls, ceilings, and roofs.

Credits: 3

Lab Hours: 9

Program: Construction Technology