

CET 105: Introduction to Microstation

This course teaches the basic techniques and concepts used in setting up a computer-aided drafting software program on a personal computer to make technical drawings. Students use Microstation in application of drawing/design techniques. Students will be expected to draw proper basic, multi-view drawings using Microstation by the completion of the course.

Credits: 3

Lab Hours: 2

Theory Hours: 2

Program: Civil Engineering