

CIS 251: C++ Programming

This course is an introduction to the C++ programming language including object oriented programming. Topics include: problem solving and design; control structures; objects and events; user interface construction; and document and program testing.

hours: 3

Prerequisites:

MTH 100

Program: Computer Science Technology