

ELT 244 : Conduit Bending and Installation

This course provides students the knowledge to properly bend electrical metallic tubing, rigid galvanized and intermediate metal conduit, and PVC conduit. Emphasis is placed on the theory and practical application of conduit bending methods. Upon completion, students should be able to get measurements, layout, and successfully bend conduit using hand type, mechanical, and hydraulic benders.

Program

Electrical Technology

Hours 3

Lab Hours 3

Theory Hours 2