

MDT 105 : Introduction to Computer-Aided Design (CAD)

This course teaches the basic techniques and concepts used in setting up a computer-aided software program on a personal computer to make technical drawings. Students use AutoCAD in application of drawing / design techniques. Students will be expected to draw proper basic multi-view drawings using AutoCAD by the completion of the course.

Program

Mechanical Design Technology

Hours 3

Lab Hours 2

Theory Hours 2