

MTH 116: Mathematical Applications

This course provides practical applications of mathematics and includes selected topics from consumer math, algebra, and geometry. The course covers integers, percent, interest, ratio and proportion, measurement systems, linear equations, and problem solving. NOTE: This course will not satisfy the STARS higher math requirement.

hours: 3

Theory Hours: 3

Program: Mathematics